ICE Fellow - FICE

Receive recognition for the significant contribution you have made to society.

ICE Fellowship is a recognition for the significant contribution you've made to society.

It shines a light on you and your achievements as a leader in the profession, no matter where you are in the world. Not only that, you will be an ambassador of the profession and who can shape the future of the institution and industry.

As a Fellow you will:

- Increase your status amongst your peers, your workplace and network as well as the use of post-nominal FICE

- Achieve greater influence by shaping the future of ICE and the industry
- Be a role model to the next generation by joining our mentoring scheme and passing on your knowledge
- Share your wealth of expertise and knowledge with the wider built environment profession through conferences, publications and seminars

Applying for Fellowship is straightforward and you don't have to be a member to apply.

Recognition. Influence. Giving Back.
